Course Name	Law For Everyone
Course Description	This 11th and 12th grade semester course (Civics/U.S. Government is a prerequisite for this course) explores and evaluates the legal and justice system in the U.S. as well as analyzing and evaluating whether the U.S. judicial and legal systems serve justice and democracy. We will analyze ways to improve these systems through a political science and sociological lens. In addition to a review of the basics of constitutional principles as it applies to law, topics include the purpose and function of law in the U.S., the mechanics of criminal and civil court, law enforcement and corrections, an overview of major criminological theories and the application of these theories in the U.S. criminal and civil legal systems. IB MYP (standard level) standards and criterion guide all instruction and are used for all assessments. International Baccalaureate (IB) Humanities, Middle Years Program courses aim to develop the understanding and application of concepts (time, place and space, change, systems and global awareness) and skills (technical, analytical, problem solving, and investigative). Content may include topics within the academic disciplines of geography, history, economics, politics, civics, sociology, anthropology, and psychology.

Class Expectations

Academics: Law is, by nature, a challenging and multi and interdisciplinary course of study which requires a high level of academic engagement from both a student and instructor’s perspective especially at a high school level. It’s also among the most fascinating and engaging because law reflects the values, beliefs, principles, and even the failures and weaknesses of any political and economic system. Law is all about taking a stand on controversial issues and cases. Students should then expect to use, develop, and hone many or most of their academic literacy skills (reading, writing, active listening, speaking - questioning) at their highest level in this class every day. Students are not only expected to be present most or all of the time in class - but to actively participate and challenge themselves and others. Although Law for Everyone is not officially an “honors track” course (Advanced Placement, IB Diploma/Higher level, etc.) - it DOES align with the highest expectations according to the IB Middle Years Programme (MYP) expectations and philosophy. Successful completion of this course will help prepare students to succeed in many or most College/University-level humanities survey courses especially in the specific areas of Sociology, Criminology, and Criminal Justice. You will be expected to engage in critical analysis including guided and open inquiry almost on a daily basis.

Attendance & Missing or incomplete assignments/assessments for this course: Superintendent Policies 6280 Homework and 6281 Make-Up Work, will be followed for this course. It is the student’s responsibility to make an appointment with me to discuss missed assignments/activities before any absences if possible. A “Google classroom” will be available for most or all assignments given in class. Habitual or frequent absenteeism and tardiness will result in appropriate school intervention/disciplinary action involving parents/guardians and THS Dean(s) as well as likely failure of the course.

Student Expectations

One way to assure success in any class - use the “6 P’s” as a guide:

Take Responsibility

- You are prompt (on time) for classes, appointments, and assignments/homework and in your seat at the bell every day.
- You are prepared for school and class by using good attending skills that include; being in your seat at the bell/beginning of class ready to engage by discussing and completing assignments, having appropriate materials without being asked or reminded, and not allowing private discussion, electronic devices, or other things to detract from class activities.

Honor Each Other

- You are consistently polite, honest, and respectful to others and work to build quality professional relationships.

Strive for Success

- You produce work that demonstrates your skills, abilities, best effort, and overall hard and thoughtful work.
- You actively participate in all classroom activities.
- You work to maintain a positive mental attitude.

General Expectations

- Grades are based upon the demonstration of proficiency on units associated with a standard given during each formative or summative assessment. Formative grades in addition to summative unit assessments will be used to holistically determine your grade. All assessments will be graded based on teacher/district/state/International Baccalaureate rubrics.
- Summative: 80% (Demonstrative - 50% & Knowledge - 30%) Summative measures of achievement are taken when unit mastery is expected. (i.e., unit tests, culmination of a project, embedded assessments, etc.). Demonstrative summatives require students to perform observable skills such as research, presentation, active small group & class discussion participation, formal essay and less formal short response writing, etc. so as to show critical analysis mastery or growth. Knowledge summatives require a student to show their understanding of class content such as being able to define key vocabulary, use it effectively, and give examples as part of demonstrative assessment or to conduct simple (eg; compare/contrast) analysis.
 - If no attempt to take a summative assessment has been made, a “no evidence” (NE) grade will be recorded until the assessment is completed. NE shall be defined as not attempting the assessment or not being present for the assessment. NE will be equal to 0%.
 - In order to receive a passing grade, a student must attempt ALL summative assessments.
 - The presence of an NE grade for any summative assessment at the end of a grading period will result in a grade of F for the course, regardless of performance on other assessments.
- Formative: 20% Formative assessments measure the scaffolding skills and/or content embedded in the unit. Formative assessments are taken frequently, after a student has practiced a skill or become familiar with content. Examples of formative assessments include but are not limited to exit tickets, paragraphs, oral check for understanding, warm-ups, stages in a large project, in-class and homework assignments, etc.
